Resettlement is a key IOM activity

Arranging safe and orderly movements of refugees and other vulnerable migrants is at the core of IOM's Constitutional mandate. Art. 1.a/b states "The purposes and functions of the Organization shall be:

To make arrangements for the organized transfer of migrants, for whom existing facilities are inadequate or who would not otherwise be able to move without special assistance, to countries offering opportunities for orderly migration – and to concern itself with the organized transfer of refugees, displaced persons and other individuals in need of international migration services for whom arrangements may be made between the Organization and States concerned, including those States undertaking to receive them."

In 2013, IOM helped to resettle
over 98,000 refugees to 23 countries.
